We had several companies out for various quotes. I've shared the ones that I have received.

The independent inspector for the insurance marked us for a violation on the boiler due to the reported leak. This means we are unable to use our boiler.

Harding's took delivery of our boiler and we are scheduled for installation on September 17th & 18th. They do not anticipate we will need to be closed as previously discussed; we will assess the situation once they get started and possibly just have the downstairs closed while they are working on that Tuesday and Wednesday. I will schedule the re-inspection with the insurance company.

Harding's are also going to try to locate the leak that is leading to an increased water bill. We have already replaced the outside spigot and fixed the toilet flappers. None of the sinks seem to be leaking.

I have a call into the electrician to install a new emergency exit sign upstairs because it did not work during the building inspection.

Miscellaneous:

I answered 8 reference questions and used 31.5 hours of PTO.
